

Call for Session Proposals

UAAC-AAUC Annual Conference 2012

November 1-3, 2012
Concordia University, Montreal

Deadline: February 28, 2012

We invite scholars and professionals to submit proposals for the annual UAAC-AAUC conference, to be held at Concordia University in Montreal, November 1 - 3, 2012. Sessions are encouraged that explore - within any geographical and temporal context - issues from the full range of scholarship in art history, visual and material culture, art and design practices, theory and criticism, and museum and gallery practices. The Program Committee welcomes proposals for chaired (or co-chaired) sessions, roundtables and workshops.

Please note that only ONE proposal will be accepted per member, whether that proposal is for a single or jointly chaired session, roundtable or workshop.

Proposals (which can be in English or French) should include a title; a 150 word description of the panel; and full contact information for the session chair(s).

Only members of UAAC-AAUC may chair or co-chair sessions. Non-members who propose sessions will be required to become members in the event that their proposals are accepted. Members are further reminded that MA students may not propose sessions and that only a limited number of session proposals by PhD students will be accepted. We invite you to visit the UAAC website at <http://www.uaac-aauc.com> to find out about the conference and membership.

Please submit proposals to Fran Pauzé, at uaac@gozoom.ca by February 28, 2012.

Session proposals will be reviewed by the UAAC- AAUC Program Committee, and a Call for Papers in response to the selected sessions will be issued in early March.
